

GISday

11.15.17

“Greetings and Welcome to GIS Day at UofL! Today we celebrate this wonderful technology affectionately called GIS, by demonstrating its application to real world spatial issues, and hopefully, educating those of you who are both new and old to the state of...
Geographic Information Systems

Schedule your day with us by attending one or more of the guest presentations taking place in the Helton GIS laboratory and viewing the incredible maps on display in the Lutz Hall Atrium.

We truly hope you find these festivities enlightening and wish you a wonderful GIS day!”
